

JUNIOR ORDER TO MEET IN RICHMOND

Will Outline Course of Action in Dealing with Juniors Who Are Loyal.

GREAT VICTORY IN COURTS

Legal Fight Begun and Ended in the City of Newport News.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., November 25.—The Junior Order of United American Mechanics, yesterday called off the meeting of the State executive board scheduled for tonight in Richmond and set next Thursday and Richmond as the time and place for the meeting.

The purpose of the meeting is to outline a course of action in dealing with the Juniors in this State who are loyal to the national organization.

It is a significant fact that the "insurgents" fight began and ended in Newport News, or the "Alpha and Omega" of the contest, as Mr. Fellows expressed it.

Floyd A. Hodgins, who was formerly State councilor, began the fight against the national organization, and after being waged for some time it was won under Mr. Fellows' administration.

The insurgents have 15,000 members and 14 councils in this State while the loyalists have only 1,100 members and 11 councils. There are 70 members of the order in this city, all members of the insurgents.

Mr. Fellows' Statement.
Regarding the recent victory, State Councilor Fellows today said:

"While the State Council of Virginia, incorporated by an act of the General Assembly of Virginia, February 12, 1906, has won a great victory in the Supreme Court of the United States over its competitors, the State Council of Virginia, working under a charter granted by the National Council, the victorious body has no idea of dealing with the men who, while they have fought their fight and lost, in any other way than one of equal fairness to both sides."

"We are a fraternal organization, founded upon great principles, one of which is the brotherhood of man, which calls for justice and mercy, with equal rights to all and no special privileges to none. I earnestly desire to see every man who was on the other side of the order enrolled upon our rolls. The State Council of Virginia, incorporated, can and will offer to these members of the other side all inducements consistent with our charter and legitimate fraternal business of greater concessions than the State of North Carolina or any other State can offer."

"We are not fighting now, as far as we are concerned, we have fought our fight in all of the courts of Virginia, and then to the Supreme Court of the United States, and we believe we are on the eve of great possibilities as an organization. A great order, with a grand opportunity to help in the advancement of our republic and her cherished institutions, we hope and confidently expect to take in each and every member of these councils, and thus increase our numerical strength and usefulness, and cement the bonds of good fellowship."

THE KAPPA SIGMAS.

Greek Letter Fraternity at Randolph-Macon Initiate Candidate.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ASHLAND, Va., November 25.—The Kappa Sigma fraternity of Randolph-Macon College held a banquet at the Henry Clay Inn last night, after initiating into the mysteries of that order Mr. Woodhouse, one of the students of the college. This society, which was organized at the University of Virginia in 1857, now has sixty-five chapters throughout the United States, has a large membership at Randolph-Macon.

The following were in attendance at the banquet: Messrs. Kerr, Taylor, Lewis, Withers, Ferguson, Boyd, Pedderman, Young, Stewart, Lancaster, Dolly, Gaver, Curtis, H. Hodnett, A. Hodnett, Broughman, Smith, Grubbs, Woodhouse, Randolph and W. L. Gaver.

CONFESED THE CRIME.

Negro Man and Wife Hold Up and Rob White Citizen.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

STANTON, Va., November 25.—Ollie Tucker, white, while on his way home late last night, was held up by Andrew Hamilton and wife, colored, and severely beaten and robbed. Tucker is now in the county jail, and is expected to state how much he lost. Detective W. L. Palmer, a member of the police force, called the guilty parties this morning. They confessed the crime.

NO COFFEE

The Doctor Said.

Coffee slavery is not much different from alcohol or any other drug. But many people don't realize that coffee contains a poisonous, habit-forming drug—caffeine.

They get into the habit of using coffee, and no wonder, when some writers for respectable magazines and papers speak of coffee as "harmless."

Of course it doesn't paralyze one in a short time like alcohol, or put one to sleep like morphine, but it slowly acts on the heart, kidneys and nerves, and soon forms a drug habit, just the same, and one that is the cause of many overlooked ailments.

"I wish to state for the benefit of other coffee slaves," writes a "young lady," "What Postum Food Coffee has done for me."

"Up to a year ago I thought I could not eat my breakfast if I did not have at least two cups of coffee, and sometimes during the day, if very tired, I would have another cup."

"I was annoyed with indigestion, heart trouble, bad feeling in my head, and sleeplessness. Our family doctor, when I consulted, asked me if I drank coffee. I said I did, and could not get along without it."

"He told me it was the direct cause of my ailments, and advised me to drink Postum. I had no faith in it, but finally tried it. The first cup was not boiled long enough, and was distasteful, and I vowed I would not drink any more."

"But after a neighbor told me to cook it longer I found Postum was much superior in flavor to my coffee. I am no longer nervous, my stomach troubles have ceased, my heart action is fine, and from 165 lbs. weight when I began Postum, I now weigh 138 lbs. I give all the credit to Postum, as I did not change my other diet in any way."

How Debility Shows

And Why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a Specific for Dangerous Physical Declines.

The symptoms of general debility vary according to the cause, but weakness is always present, a tendency to perspire and fatigue easily, ringing in the ears, sometimes black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, vertigo, wakefulness caused by inability to stop thinking, and unrefreshing sleep. The cause of the trouble may be some drain on the system, or it may be mental or physical overwork, sometimes insufficient nutrition due to digestive disturbance. In the latter case there is generally a loss of appetite and a coated tongue, as well as general languor and debility.

Miss Lulu M. Metzger, a stenographer, living at 71 Mill Street, Watertown, N. Y., suffered for over a year from general debility. "It was caused by overstudy," she says, "and I had no ambition, didn't want to go anywhere, my food didn't taste good, I was run down, lifeless and listless. I took medicines, but they failed to help me. Finally friends recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to my mother, and she got some for me. I took them for some time, and was entirely cured, and have had no return of the trouble."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure debility because they actually make new, red, rich blood, and as the blood carries nourishment to all the organs and tissues of the body, nerves as well as muscles, the new blood stimulates the organs to do the work that nature expects of them, and normal health follows. Not only is this treatment sufficient to cure debility, but many severe nervous disorders as well.

The pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Send for free diet book.

MOURNED AS DEAD FOR MANY YEARS

Wanderer Now to Return for Happy Reunion with His Family.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LYNCHBURG, Va., November 25.—After mourning him as dead for more than thirteen years, Mrs. S. E. Perego, of this city, has just heard from her brother, Mr. C. W. Wood, who is now in Orange, N. Y., and she expects that he will shortly return to his old home in Orange county, where his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Wood, and a number of other relatives reside.

In 1892 Mr. Wood left Alexandria on a trip through the West. The last letter from him was written in a town in Minnesota on October 4th, 1892. Eight weeks after that, in that vicinity, hunters found the decomposed body of a man who answered to the description of Mr. Wood. After some correspondence it was concluded by the family in Virginia that the remains of the unknown man were those of the son and brother. Since then he has been mourned as dead. To Mrs. Perego the information that he is alive comes almost as a voice from the grave. Now she expects soon to go back to the home of her childhood, at Somerset, for a happy reunion of the remaining members of her family.

Mr. Wood has just written to secure the addresses of his brothers and sisters for the purpose of writing to them. Little information as to his movements in the lapse of years is conveyed, excepting that he has been in South America; traveled extensively, and has married and is now the father of five children. Upon his return home he will learn of the first time that since his departure three sisters have passed away.

While a resident of Alexandria for ten years Mr. Wood traveled for the old firm of Davis & Miller, gunware makers, which has been succeeded by the E. J. Miller Company. He was a lieutenant in a military company of Alexandria, and was well known there at the time of his disappearance. His family here and in Orange county have never known why he left Alexandria, excepting that it was to roam, as he left home when quite a boy, and was not heard from for three years, spending that time in Liverpool, England.

MANY HANDS RELEASED.

Crews Shipped from Cities Cannot Be Relied on for Testimony.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ONANCOCK, Va., November 25.—The arrest of two or three captains on Tangier Island for cruelty to their crews and the release of many more hands by the action of the deputy marshals, has seriously injured the oyster dredging interests. There may have been, and there are, annually, cases of harsh treatment, but it is a rule, in the past, that the testimony and statements of the crews shipped in the cities cannot be relied upon. Complaints from crews, white or colored, shipped in the county are seldom made. It is generally believed here that far more harm than good has been done by the so-called crusade against cruelty.

SEED POTATOES FAIL.

Vegetable for Planting Purposes Brought From Maine.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ONANCOCK, Va., November 25.—The fall crop of Irish potatoes, from which the seed for spring planting is usually obtained, was almost an entire failure. They bring readily $3 and $3.50 per barrel.
